

The director and researchers of the Center for Urban Disaster Management Policy (KRIHS) visit DPRI

The Director of the Center for Urban Disaster Management Policy (KRIHS: Korea Research Institute for Human Settlements), Sim Woo-bae visited DPRI along with 3 researchers on May 21. The purpose of their visit was to learn the urban disaster prevention research in DPRI and to talk about a plan for mutual cooperation in the near future.

Professor Hori, the Vice-Director of DPRI welcomed them and had a lively discussion over their inquiries about plans and systems for urban area development to cope with disasters such as heavy rain, flood, or earthquake.
